WHAT

This workshop is a research and field-based teacher training initiative of the National Estuarine Research Reserve System, part of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration. The goal of TOTE is to improve teachers' and students' understanding of the environment using local examples and to provide resources and experience to support the incorporation of estuary and watershed topics into classroom teaching. The course is also designed to promote stewardship of watersheds and estuaries. The course will introduce teachers to information, research, and classroom activities about watersheds, estuaries, and coastal systems. It will incorporate field investigations and real time GTM Research Reserve online data. Course content and activities will be aligned with Florida Sunshine State Standards and national standards.

BENEFITS

Each Teacher will receive:

- 8 In-Service points;
- Field-based training and fun (i.e., Kayak tour; Guided Hike);

- In-class training;
- Resources and materials; and,
- Lunch.
